Cause of Failures in the Tea Trade.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—The failures in the tea trade yesterday are attributed rather to competition which is growing in the West than to the panic. The great Western marts, it is said, are receiving their teas mainly by way of San Francisco, and many smaller firms here have been wound up owing to this withdrawal of trade. Decreasing trade is mentioned as the cause of one of the heaviest importing firms advertising two vessels of their fleet for sale.

The Virginius Matter.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—No official information in the case of the Virginius has yet been received by the State Department.

A New Roman Catholic Document.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—The London Telegraph says there has been recently published at Rome a new constitution concerning Vicars Capitular and persons elected to vacant sees by the civil powers. It bears date of October 5th last, and appears opportunely for the nomination to the vacant see of Fulda. Doubts are expressed in high Catholic circles whether the German Kaiser will brave the censures fulminated in this bull. Amongst other matters [illegible] that the Chapter only is competent to elect a Vicar Capitular on the decease of a Bishop, and that all [illegible] by Emperors, or Kings or Dukes or Presidents who have usurped such privileges are altogether null. It also inflicts major excommunication, ipso facto, on canons and dignitaries of cathedrals if they venture to give up the administration of any church to such nominee of the civil power. It reserves absolution in such cases especially to the Roman Pontiff for the time being, and declares all acts of such intruders to be null.

The Case of Surveyor Hardenburgh of California.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Surveyor Hardenburgh's defense when tested by Department records is found to be merely special pleading, which will undoubtedly react to his disadvantage. He justifies his illegal charges and fees by saying he followed precedents which had been approved by the Department. The facts are, that Commissioner Drummond, as soon as he read the Bulletin article early in 187[illegible] exposing the fee practice of Hardenburgh's office, sent him that article, and demanded an explanation, at the same time explicitly informing him that such practices should not be allowed to continue. Hardenburgh after some days made an evasive reply, stating that the persons who complained were then satisfied, and that there had been misapprehensions. The Commissioner thereupon wrote him again that his reply was by no means satisfactory, [illegible] again demanding explanation and reform. [illegible] failing to reply to this letter, he has since continued to exact the same illegal fees. The explanation that he accounted for [illegible] by him as not [illegible]. [illegible] he did [illegible] money over to the United States Treasury, but applied it to the payment of an unauthorized purchase of car[illegible], &c. A much more serious matter, however, is Hardenburgh's [illegible] failure to [illegible] the charge that he put deputies to work in the field to [illegible] the availability of appropriations for San Diego. This he attempts to justify by citing some of the old circulars issued by Drummond's predecessors prior to the passage of the law covering an [illegible] in the Treasury. The fact is, he was informed by a circular from the General Land Office in 1871, that although he might make and forward a contract for approval and otherwise prepare for work in advance of the beginning of the fiscal year, no work to be paid for out of prospective appropriations could be done until appropriations were actually available.

Ex-Senator Cole has arrived here to look after the Mission of San Diego and San Antonio Spanish ranch cases, long pending in the Department on applications for patents, also to argue a [illegible] case in the Supreme Court.

General Grant on Cuban Affairs.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—At a Cuban meeting yesterday a Washington correspondent makes President Grant say he had read that eighty Cuban insurgents captured as prisoners of war had been shot on the field, but that while the report lacked confirmation he was prepared to hear of its confirmation. After what had already occurred in Cuba he was satisfied that the Spanish Government did not and would not approve such butchery. It was a matter which an enlightened nation could not overlook. If indeed this method of warfare was necessary to support the Spanish republic as an individual, he could not wish such a Government prosperity. If the Spanish people, in their effort to establish a Republican form of Government, could not control their authorities in Cuba, then in the interests of humanity he thought it time to interfere—not to encourage struggling Cubans nor embarrass the Spanish republic in any way, but wholly in the interest of civilization or of humanity.

Cuban Affairs.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—The Consul General of the United States at Havana telegraphs Secretary Fish that the Havana papers publish a report of the execution of the captain and crew of the Virginius as [illegible] the American press from Havana. He says that on receiving the dispatch they immediately proceeded to the executive mansion and showed the telegram to the President, and soon the matter telegraphed the Consul General to verify the statement.

The excitement against the Cuban authorities, which had somewhat lessened, has been revived by [illegible]. The news [illegible] the subject of earnest comment in official and diplomatic circles.

Affairs of the Texas Pacific.

CHICAGO, Nov. 1[illegible].—The Chicago Tribune has a Washington special which says the ground [illegible] capitalists and politicians in the Texas and California Construction Company, and [illegible] the Company [illegible] rights under the guise of Credit Mobilier to [illegible] the character of [illegible] were being demolished [illegible] trying to [illegible] a new Credit Mobilier. A suit was [illegible] commenced this week by the firm of Christy, Lane & Co., of Washington, against the Construction Company, in behalf of certain obligations that had been promised [illegible] which were not fulfilled. Yesterday the [illegible] was filed by John McNamara, President, to [illegible] personal interference with Colonel [illegible] to postpone the suit. General Bristow, who resigned the office of Solicitor General of the United States to become Colonel T. A. Scott's counsel, was afterwards made first President of this Construction Company with a salary [illegible] to have his name [illegible] dropped from the list of [illegible]. It appears that Bristow left the concern when he found it might be expected of him to do dirty work with the Texas Legislative state authorities. He had five [illegible] his salary in the scheme, and went out with no high opinion of the practice of law for modern railroad companies. Mr. Scott, although he [illegible] Congress with [illegible] of the [illegible] of $[illegible],000 and [illegible]. The stockholders were mentioned: Matthew Baird of Philadelphia, Henry S. McComb, [illegible] of Adams Express Company, Walter [illegible], General Dodge, [illegible] of Mobile [illegible], with Henry Clews and J. L. Lockwood of New York [illegible]. After organization was completed the [illegible] large shares [illegible] began the work [illegible] raising an assessment [illegible] of the capital stock [illegible] had been promised. It is alleged that Scott waited [illegible] in which the Construction Company was to be paid, and [illegible] much trouble that it was [illegible] to keep it up. [illegible] stockholders that it will [illegible] Judge Bradley [illegible] State Supreme Court [illegible] as is the jurisdiction [illegible] appointment.

LETTER FROM SALEM.

THE CHEMEKETA FIRE—DEATH OF AN OLD RESIDENT—THE REUNION OF PIONEERS AT BUTTEVILLE.

SALEM, Nov. 11, 1873.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

Circuit Court met yesterday, but did no business beyond instructing the Grand Jury. To-day the docket was read and assigned. It is quite lengthy. On Sunday night at 11 o'clock

THE CHEMEKETA HOTEL

Was discovered to be on fire, and after a vain attempt to extinguish it by the watchman an alarm was sounded, and the fire department turned out in good style, but the citizens generally could not learn at first where it was. There were not many on hand until the bell was rung a second time. The fire caught from a defective chimney in the barber shop, situated in the basement, and extended from there to the floor of the Mansard roof behind the wall of the grand stairway. For a few minutes it seemed as if it would burn in spite of the exertions of the firemen and citizens. A blinding and stifling smoke filled the entire building, so much so that it was difficult for many to work. One thing strange about the fire is that smoke had been noticed for over two hours before in several of the rooms, but could not be traced out until the time of the alarm spoken of. For the exertion made by the department to save the building to-day Mr. Bush made a present of $200 through the Chief Engineer, J. N. Matheny, for which kindness the boys turned out in uniform, and, with the Salem band, serenaded him. This evening about 8 o'clock

DR. M. D. SWIGGETT

An old resident of the city, was found dead at his residence. From all the evidence elicited before a Coroner's jury, it is supposed that he died on Sunday evening, as that is the last time he was seen on the street. The state of his body indicated that he must have been dead that length of time. He had been living alone for several months, and was inclined to be seclusive; consequently no surprise was expressed at his non-appearance except at one or two places which he frequented. I was informed that a man who had nursed him went to his house and found him lying across his bed, dead. Justice Coffey was informed, and that officer summoned a jury. An examination was had by two physicians, who decided that death resulted from rheumatism and strong drink. Dr. Swiggett has resided in this city for several years. He was a widower, having one child, who is now a young lady living in Bloomingdale, Indiana, where he sent her to attend school about six years ago. He will be buried to-morrow (Wednesday).

On Tuesday, Nov. 11th, the

OREGON PIONEER ASSOCIATION

met at Butteville to commemorate the events attending their arrival and residence in this country. This Society comes up to and includes the year 1853, making all who came before that date eligible to membership. There are now quite a large number upon the roll, and the Association is in perfect and successful organization. The day of meeting (November 11th, 1873) was selected with reference to the occasion on which the Constitution of the State was adopted. About three hundred men and women assembled at Butteville to celebrate this occasion. A procession headed by the Aurora band marched through the streets to Mathews Hall, where appropriate speeches were made by several members of the Association, among them ex-Gov. Geo. L. Curry, Gen. Palmer, Hon. S. F. Chadwick and Dr. Kyle, after which a bountiful collation was served up, of which all partook with true pioneer spirit. The bread of 1812 was passed around with the bread of 1873, and the contrast added much to the pleasure of the occasion. The dinner was superb, and it reflected great credit upon all who got it up.

The evening was spent in dancing and supper, to the delight and amusement of the old and young present.

The business of the Society was transacted for the year, and thus closed one of the most happy reunions that ever came off in Oregon. The Society proposes to have annual reunions, and will in due time announce the appointment for next year. Good luck to the Oregon Pioneer Association.

The Washington Chronicle vindicates Senator Carpenter against the Long Branch scandal. It says his enemies appear resolved to persecute him into a prominence to which even his brilliant talents might fail to elevate him. We should consider [illegible] rather expensive and quite unbecoming. On the whole the Chronicle [illegible]. It may be that these journals have resolved to compel his re-election as a means of vindicating him from unjust aspersions.

LETTER FROM McMINNVILLE.

McMINNVILLE, Nov. 10, 1873.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

Our usually serene village was startled this morning at about 10 o'clock by an alarm of fire, and in a moment smoke and flames were seen issuing from the postoffice and drug store of Dr. H. V. V. Johnson. It appears that the Doctor [illegible] had put combustible materials in a vessel on the stove for the purpose of mixing some [illegible], when by some mishap the mass [illegible] fire with a report like gun powder, and the [illegible] in flames in a moment. Mrs. Derby, wife of Hon. M. L. Derby of your town, was in the postoffice at the time and near the stove, but fortunately was unharmed.

The alarm was soon given, and although the first vigorous jerk brought down the fire alarm of the M. M. H. & L. Co., still as a man's voice can be heard farther than the triangle, there was soon a willing crowd on hand with buckets, axes and ladders. The entire interior of the building was in flames, and many of the chemicals ranged on the shelves, being of an inflammable nature, added to the danger, so that at one time it seemed as though the block was doomed. It contains nearly the whole business of the village, and the buildings are either joining or close together, so that if the flames ever reached the open air the result was plain. Pumps and buckets were set going in every well near the fire, while men dashed into the very center of the building with pails of water, and soon made way for others, so that in twenty minutes the fire was out, the water standing [illegible] inches deep on the floor, every part of the room charred and blackened, and the contents a total wreck.

Looking at the situation now, it seems almost wonderful how the town escaped, and nothing but the prompt action of those nearest at hand prevented a general catastrophe.

In addition to the usual stock and fixtures of a country drug store, a large stock of stationery and the new series of school books are totally destroyed, the loss being variously estimated from one to three thousand dollars. The truth is probably the mean of those figures. In the history of this place this is the worst fire known, there never having been an occupied building destroyed since the village was founded, and one house in course of erection has been the only serious loss by fire.

WELL SOLD.

Last Saturday evening a party calling themselves Howard's Serenaders were billed to play at the Odd Fellows hall. They did play their audience most effectually, by opening and closing their performance in a short half hour, without so much as touching the bill they had promised. It is such graceless scamps as this that cause our people to be timid of patronizing even worthy and legitimate performances. They ought to be advertised.

WHEAT AND WHEAT PROSPECTS

are still encouraging. There is a large quantity still in the country awaiting the rise of the river, which brings competition and reasonable rates for transportation. The prospects for still greater quantities next year are very good. A great deal of land was summer fallowed this year, and is now all sown and up nicely, while all the stubble land available for another crop is being put in rapidly. If the spring is favorable for seeding, the increase next year will be astonishing. It is to be hoped that prices may remain remunerative.

We learn from the OREGONIAN of yesterday that there has been an election. We did not have much here, and do not dignify it by that name. The Republican vote was thirty one per cent of Wilson's vote, and fifty per cent of that number openly expressed themselves as taking a choice between two evils. But the good effect is already visible. I think nearly every Republican in the county will attend the primaries next spring, as they ought, for if a man neglects his vote there and only votes when narrowed down to a choice between two, as [illegible] by our system, he very nearly disfranchises himself.

VIDI.

THE EASTERN PRESS ON THE ELECTIONS

[From Harper's Weekly, November 1st.]

The Ohio election would be very significant if the country were divided upon a great question of policy. But as it is not, the result shows only Republican dissatisfaction and indifference. To suppose that the people of Ohio accept the farrago put forth as a Democratic platform in that State is to accuse their common sense. They do not believe, for instance, that the Democrats are or have been the friends of equal and exact justice, because they know that the party was the machine of slavery, and that to-day the party organs sneer at the equality suffrage. And the other pretenses are like this. After the nomination of Horace Greeley, the Democratic party can not claim any principles which seriously conflict with those of the Republicans, because Horace Greeley was identified with every Republican measure. In nominating him the Democrats theoretically surrendered. His fatal error was the supposition that the Democrats, even if converted, could have so effectively carried out his favorite principles as his old party.

If then the party which last year nominated Mr. Greeley for the Presidency can not affect to repudiate his principles and the measures that he favored, it can appeal for public support only because of the probability of its more honest administration of Government. Now whatever may be thought of Republican administration, nobody really believes that that of Democrats would be more faithful. The Democratic Government of the city of New York down to two years ago, the city in which the power of that party was unchallenged, in which Tweed and his Ring had absolute control, and in which the Democrats gave us for judges Barnard, Cardozo and McCunn, illustrated the purity of its spirit and the integrity of its administration. Ohio is unquestionably a Republican State as against the Democratic party. But there are many things that have chilled Republican ardor, and this year was a good one in which to express dissatisfaction by staying at home. The result will be useful in reminding Republican leaders that just in the degree that they depend upon party organization merely they invite defeat and disaster.

A SOUND REPUBLICAN JOURNAL ON THE RESULT.

NEW YORK, Nov. [illegible].—The Evening Post, in commenting on the elections yesterday, says: The evidence goes to prove that there has been no real change in the Democratic [illegible], but an apparent falling off in that of the Republicans. The reaction against the ruling power has not been a negative so much as a positive one, evincing apathy and dissatisfaction on the part of the friends of the administration rather than the determination to revolt. A large number of people who expected a more intelligent and vigorous policy on the questions of pressing interest have been disappointed. [illegible] who hold back to punish a body of combatants who are best fitted to deal with affairs in their actual position and circumstances. Hardly a step has been taken by the authorities at Washington to put us in the way to recover financial health. If the result shall make the officers of the Government more careful in their financial policy, and give more attention to affairs of state than to party, it will be a public blessing.

The Denver Brewing Co. offer to purchase during the coming year 50,000 bushels of barley, and hops in proportion.

All is now hurry, bustle and rush to clear off the old business, as Friday will be the last day of the session.

A curious case, and one which will be gorged with interest to the pertinacious train boy, has just been decided in the Superior Criminal Court of Boston. The defendant, Peaslee, was charged with maintaining a lottery in selling packages of the inevitable prize candy. Judge Aldrich in his charge ruled that Peaslee maintained a lottery if the disposition of his candy had connected with it a chance to obtain something beyond the value of the candy. The jury were out about an hour, and returned a verdict of guilty on the first count of the indictment. The case will be taken to the Supreme Court to test the question whether Peaslee's method of selling candy is a lottery within the meaning of the statute.

We wish the youngsters no harm, but if our Prosecuting Attorney for this District could procure one or two convictions like the above, with strong recommendations to mercy, he would confer a blessing on the traveling public, and relieve many a harassed mortal. At the same time we wish it understood that we do not desire to interfere in any way with the Bulletin's lucrative soda and peanut business.

THE TERRITORIES.

Stages leaving Corinne for Montana are daily crowded.

The mines of Silver City, New Mexico, are turning out very rich silver ores.

The Rio Grande river was frozen over at Santa Fe on the 30th of October.

There are twenty lawyers in attendance at the District Court now in session at Olympia.

The citizens of Brigham City are preparing to construct their portion of the Utah Northern road.

Thirty thousand dollars has recently been paid out to the troops stationed at Fort Sanders, Wyoming.

It is said that the Arkansas river is very low at Fort Lyon, and that irrigation is necessary at least three times a day.

The Seattle Dispatch understands that the steamer Fetherston has been condemned, and will not be allowed to run after the 5th of this month.

J. M. Murphy is now de jure et de facto, Auditor of Washington Territory. That is, he has been elected and installed into that office. Very liberal translation.

Cheyenne isn't going to have the Modocs this winter, but then she'll have the Wyoming Legislature. There's always a compensation in nature and other things.

The Salt Lake Tribune speaks of the Utah farmers thus: "After dragging their butter down to Corinne by the hair the Cache Valley farmers get 40 cents a pound for it."

A four hundred and fifty dollar canine passed in his checks at Tacoma last Monday, to satisfy the vengeance of a nervous individual whom he had kept awake for thirteen nights.

Cattle men report that in no previous season has the grass on the plains "cured down" so finely as the present fall. As a consequence, there will be no lack of good winter feed.

Southern Utah flour is selling at $5 per hundred at Pioche, while California flour brings $7 and $10. This is owing to the poor milling facilities of the southern portion of the Territory.

The Montanian of October 23d learns that the snow is as deep on the Boulder and Big Hole Mountains as any time last winter—six feet at new Willow Creek mines, and 10 feet at the head of South Boulder.

The troops stationed at Fort Lyon this winter will be F and G, Third Infantry, and companies H and M, Sixth Cavalry, Maj. Jas. Biddle, Sixth Cavalry, commanding post. Lieut. George S. Anderson, Sixth Cavalry, A. A. Q. M., A. C. S., and post adjutant.

On Wednesday, 5th inst., a committee of the Washington Territory Legislature reported in favor of appropriating $2,500 for a flagstaff to be sent from the Territory to the Centennial celebration to take place in Philadelphia in 1876. As the longest pole knocks the persimmons, we presume our neighbor will bring down the astringent fruit.

Mr. A. Leland, in a letter to the Lewiston Signal dated the 1st inst., says the hoisting works for the Rescue mine have been shipped from San Francisco, and a portion of the machinery is on the road from Wallula, but thinks it will be too late to pack the machinery in to the mine this fall, in consequence of the blocking up of the trails with snow.

Five distinct belts of veins or deposits, of a character hitherto unmet with in Colorado, have been the result of prospecting during the past two years—the tellurium mines upon Gold Hill, the bismuth lodes of Sugar Loaf, the gray copper and bismuth veins of Geneva district, the rich cupreous limestone deposits of Mounts Lincoln and Bross, and the gold lodes of San Juan.

The Tacoma Tribune says: "Dr. Franz Steindachner, of Vienna, is now sojourning at the Castlenook fisheries, engaged in putting up specimens of fish and other objects of value to the scientist, under the auspices of the Austrian Government. His collection so far made in Washington Territory is of great value, and when he returns to Europe, where all his specimens are sent, the Museum of Vienna will be enriched and the Territory of Washington benefited by the publication of its resources in marine productions."

The Cheyenne Leader of November 4th has the following Modoc news: "The Modocs arrived here yesterday, and were interviewed at the depot by nearly the whole population of Cheyenne. The general impression obtained was that these savages were an insignificant, filthy lot of poor devils, that could have been subdued and caged by twenty-five of Wyoming's frontiersmen. General Sheridan, holding that the climate around Cheyenne would be too salubrious for these Indians, ordered them to Fort McPherson, in Nebraska, where diseases, brought on by filth, and the sudden change of climate and weather will probably send them to the happy hunting grounds before the winter closes."

OREGON.

The Albany firemen will give a grand ball on New Year's Eve.

Corvallis college has 106 students instead of 100, as heretofore reported.

If Hiram Moses Beezeley is in Oregon, he is requested to write to John Mitten at Nevada City, Cal.

Mr. N. Baum is expected to pungle $120,000 in coin to Linn county farmers for wheat already purchased, early next week.

Rev. J. L. Parrish was thrown from a wagon last Tuesday at Salem, and badly, but not dangerously, sprained in the ankle.

Mr. Asahel Bush, as a token of his appreciation of the efforts of the Salem firemen in saving the Chemeketa Hotel, presented the Department with $200 coin.

The Albany Register says: "A small lot of wheat sold at $1 per bushel at the mills the other day on long credit. It does not command $1 per bushel cash in this market."

King's valley, located in Benton county, is not the least among the counties in the article of fruit—at least hen fruit. The other day a train of three express wagons came into Albany from that valley laden with eggs and [illegible] the boy smothered their [illegible] with [illegible].

Rev. J. W. D. Mays proposes to issue a paper called The Columbia Tribune, at Lafayette, as soon as three hundred bona fide subscribers are obtained. According to the prospectus before us, the Tribune will be devoted to Christianity, literature, science, education, the farming, manufacturing and mining interests, and to general intelligence. The paper will subserve the universal interests of orthodoxy, and will especially guard the interests of the M. E. Church South.

Dr. M. D. Swiggett, an old resident of Salem, was found dead in his house on Tuesday afternoon. The Statesman says: "The neighbors, when they learned the fact, recollected that they had not seen him since Sunday. It is not therefore known when he died, but it seems certain that he met the terrors of death alone, either unconscious or unable to make himself heard. He had been for many months an invalid. The verdict of the coroner's jury was that he came to his death from the effects of a disease with which he had been affected for years (rheumatism and gout) and the excessive use of ardent spirits."

The latest effort of the New York Herald on Cæsarism is a little squib entitled "The Real Danger," in which that sheet says: "If General Grant can accept a renomination now, with no harm to the country, others may come who will do harm. Such an acceptance would be the destruction of a tradition of constitutional liberty as sacred as liberty itself. Between Grant for a third term and Jefferson Davis every true republican should vote for Davis, for it is not men but principle." We incline to the belief that when such an issue comes the Herald will find that the question of men would be considered.

THURSDAY MORNING NOV 13 1873

MASSACHUSETTS REPUBLICANS

The erudite political manager of the Bulletin who swabs out social reputations to order is engaged now in telling the dear people what he knows about Massachusetts politics. Some Yankee has told him that Governor Washburn was elected last year by seventy thousand majority. And then he has heard that Washburn is elected this year by a bare plurality — his term we suppose for 15,000 majority which is the number of votes Washburn received over Gaston. Our weeping philosopher regrets this loss. He remarks that "the Washburn people have nearly stranded the Republican party of Massachusetts." This is melancholy. As the dispatches used to say, in war times "important if true." Perhaps the Bulletin fat individual will bring a few copies of his remarks on Massachusetts politics to the Hamilton Hall Committee. We don't want to be intrusive, but we think that Judge Hoar may not rightly understand the situation. The Republican party in the Old Bay State may yet be saved if the Bulletin fat individual will only do his duty. Perhaps he might take up a collection to go back to Worcester and represent the matter to Charles Thurber, Ethan Allen, Ichabod Washburn or Governor Bullock. We don't like to have him leave the State or we would contribute something. We can't spare him just yet. He affords us too much amusement. And then those envious Custom House subordinates might chop his official head off during his absence, some more of the Bulletin's notes might go to protest, or the small, ineffectual-looking editor might go back to his vomit, put the Bulletin on a square Democratic basis—where it belongs—and play the deuce generally. Perhaps he'd better stay, after all.

There are one or two facts connected with the Massachusetts election, which it might profit our choleric neighbor to study. First. General B. F. Buttler was opposed to Washburn in the convention. He was beaten by a round twenty. Those who believe in the Essex statesman may persuade themselves that he supported his successful competitor with all his wonderful strength. Others may believe differently. Second. It was believed by many Republicans that Governor Washburn represented the Prohibition interest in the recent campaign. The whole liquor interest and the strength of the Anti-Prohibition party, irrespective of politics, was arrayed against him. Third. The office-holding element of Massachusetts is a servant to Gen. Butler. Fourth. When Washburn ran in 1870 he received a majority of 27,404, while in 1872 his majority reached the enormous figure of 72,274, within 7,000 of Lincoln's last majority. Will the wise Bulletin explain that little deficiency of 47,000 votes on any hypothesis half so reasonable as those we offer for the falling off in '73? Come, brace yourself for a gigantic struggle with the figures. And while in your most meditative mood think of the days of the Dorr rebellion when John Davis was turned out of office chiefly because he lent Massachusetts muskets to put down the suffrage party in [illegible], and Marcus Morton came in by a majority of one vote.

No, it is not because the Republican majority is reduced that the Bulletin wails. There is a little ring of Federal officers in that State who crammed the primaries with Democrats, and tried to overawe the party with the terrors of Presidential displeasure. They were beaten out of sight in Convention, and they retired from the campaign to brood in sullen silence over their defeat. The Bulletin cannot digest that ringing platform of Massachusetts Republicans, which denounces the undue influence of Federal officers in local politics. That is what hurts.

Nowhere in the Union of States is Republicanism sounder and truer than in Massachusetts. The best classes of the Old Bay State rallied to the hearty support of Washburn. From the mountains of Berkshire to Bunker Hill, from old Pepperell to Barnstable, the blood of the Puritans rebelled against the audacious attempt to force the free suffrages of a State to the endorsement of back-pay grabs and Credit Mobilierism. How strange it is that in this battling of the people with corruption and corporational tyranny, the Bulletin is always on the losing side!

We shall hope to hear that the Bulletin has invited Massachusetts Republicans to a calm, dispassionate inquiry into its theory of rolling up large majorities. Perhaps Gov. Washburn's friends never heard of the "card trick—of the value of President Grant's portrait on election day. The OREGONIAN exchanges with several Boston papers. It has done its duty by informing those exchanges of the Bulletin's ingenious devices. Will the Bulletin finish the work by exporting Mulkey, Ward, Witherell and its Custom House artist to explain, more fully than we possibly can, its "ways that are dark and tricks that are vain"?

A VERY COWARDLY FOE.

It is noticeable that the Bulletin is extremely valorous when the subjects of its abuse are at a convenient distance. When there is no probability of reply that paper makes its bitterest, most malicious assaults. This characteristic interferes in no way with the OREGONIAN however. We have convicted it of willful falsification in several instances, and our space can be occupied to better advantage than in answering scandalous charges against individuals who when confronted will be abundantly able to vindicate themselves.

The Bulletin has concluded to postpone its remarks on the subject of legislative corruption. We commend its prudence. It may yet have its hands full. And if it is content to understand our article of Tuesday last as 'bluster,' we shall interpose no objection. Some day we may hear it whispering "Hush."

If the knowing individuals who alternate in the editorial chair of the Bulletin are minded to have a little conversation on the subject of Senators we can tell them a trick worth two of their blackmailing one. If our hints are appreciated we shall expect to see on Friday morning full specifications of the Bulletin's charges. Meanwhile let the Bulletin understand that all privileges on the ground of the absence of the parties whom it would implicate are waived. The great seal of a State is better evidence in any court popular or otherwise than rash assertion.

STARVATION IN THE PULPIT.

If Chicago papers are to be believed there exists among certain religious societies in that city very pressing necessity for a complete reconstruction of ecclesiastical affairs. The Tribune of recent date narrates a story of starvation in the pulpit which would be quite incredible, were it not corroborated by ample evidence. We are told that on a recent Sunday an Episcopalian minister of Chicago entered his pulpit seemingly much exhausted. He read the morning service with great difficulty. It was noticed by his congregation that he lacked his usual fervor and earnestness. The text of the homily was read and just at this juncture the minister broke down. After a few moments rest he announced to his hearers that he could go no farther. A brief and embarrassing silence ensued. Then, with tremulous voice and overflowing eyes, he told them that at dinner the previous day he sat down to bread and butter and tea. His breakfast on the Sunday morning had not been so luxurious. Whether after the morning service was over, he would find any dinner at all waiting for him he did not know. He had not been to market for several days because he had no money wherewith to buy an ounce of food. He would not go in debt, but having always prayed for his daily bread he would still trust that the Lord would provide. He closed his book and the congregation went to their comfortable homes to ponder, let us hope, over the strange sermon to which they had been unwilling listeners. We are told that this Episcopalian clergyman is not the only victim, in Chicago, of clerical starvation.

Now, if there is a city in the United States which needs the ministrations of the Gospel, Chicago is that city. We referred the other day to the heathenish creed uttered by the Chicago Times. We have shuddered to think of the possibilities attending the entrance of a full grown Custom House ring into that modern Sodom. If the Lakes did not close over it it would be because there is no virtue in brimstone. In such a city it is by no means strange that piety should shiver in rags and starve on the threshold of wealth. The Board of Missions should see to it that the stronghearted preacher of whom we have spoken is kept in his parish. We can imagine no sermon more instructive than the memories which would crowd upon his stingy hearers at sight of the man who has thus proclaimed their meanness to the world.

DeWitt Talmage once devoted a Sabbath sermon to the theme of "Preachers and Beefsteaks." He taught the intimate relation between healthful spiritual food and sound bodily nourishment. He was well nigh overwhelmed with ridicule at the time. But if his sermon—which was a striking one in its way—could be printed in the form of a tract and circulated among these Chicago parishioners the eccentric Brooklyn preacher might garner in a thousand fold of the seed he sowed years ago to the whirlwind of the secular press. There is a kind of theology which thrives well on fasting and abstinence, but involuntary penance of this kind is a soil in which Christian virtues are liable to languish. We believe there is is one case on record in which a great preacher suffered for 40 days such pangs as beset this Chicago clergyman. How many are called to pass through these bitter experiences? How many preachers in this rich land could tell a tale which would rival his sad story in woe?

THE ARTIST MARTYR.

Whatever motive the New York Herald may have had in starting the mad-dog cry of Cæsarism it must be apparent there is a point to this editorial line in its issue of Oct. 29th:

"If, as the papers say there is no sense or truth in the Cæsarism scare what are they all talking about it for?" At first this Cæsarism nonsense was purely ridiculous. The leading journals of New York poked all manner of fun at the Herald for suggesting it. But the Herald kept pounding away, and in process of time we saw the most influential journals of the East gravely discussing the possibilities. Even Harper's Weekly had something to say about the enormous forces of patronage which now fortify the Presidential office. From the ridiculous it has passed to the ludicrous and now we see the Herald chuckling at the breeze it has raised by its pertinacity. It reminds us of some mischievous hoodlum who having strung two cats over a clothes line stands near at hand watching with juvenile complacency the tufts of fur given to the gentle zephyrs by the industrious claws of the dissatisfied animals. There was nothing in the cry against Grant to start with. There is nothing save the paradox. Can something come of nothing?

But this Barnum of the press has tired of its last sensation and stretching forth its enormous antennæ for some new curiosity it has drawn Thomas Nast in. We mentioned the other day, that a well meaning but misguided friend of that artist had written a letter appealing to the American public for a fund to relieve the necessity which compelled Nast to enter the lecture field. In response to that appeal the Herald was presently flooded with letters from sympathetic correspondents. These continue to appear in the Herald. Some of them are very amusing, while others seem to be inspired by real generosity. [illegible] writes:

I enclose you a $1 bill for the relief of Mr. Nast. If the late Jim Fisk were alive and reduced to the same condition of impecuniosity as this young artist I should do the same. I recognize in both the characters the native principle of genius and struggling [illegible] to succor.

A politician has other motives:

I send herewith just five cents for the relief of Nast, to cure him of the folly of being poor. It is his own fault if he has got to chalk pictures on a blackboard for a living. Why did he not act like the politicians of the party he helped with his pencil and go in for a rake of the people's money?

An indignant individual says:

Put me down for five cents to the Nast subscription. The amount is small, but the rebuke is all the greater of the men who traded on this young man's brain to secure money and position.

Another is inclined to be ill natured:

I beg leave to enclose herewith a twenty five cent stamp with the request that it be added to the fund of Mr. T. Nast and the suggestion that it may be used to replenish the stock of smut he has used to blacken certain religious and political institutions of his adopted country.

A man was once brought to Henry IV. who at fifteen paces distance never missed shooting a green pea upon the point of a needle by blowing it through a small reed. He had employed several years in acquiring this surprising skill and in exhibiting it before the King, counted largely upon receiving a truly royal reward. The Bearnese seemed amused by his performance.

"Give him a bushel of green peas," said Henry IV., whom we all know as an appreciative personage. Respectfully, A.

I. J. A. contributes because he believes the people owe Nast a debt of gratitude:

I do not think that because Mr. Nast chooses to earn his living by going round the country like a showman his genius is any the less. He has a right to do this if he likes it. But if the American public owe him anything, he should be saved from the necessity of working in this way. I sincerely believe we owe him a great deal. This is why I send $1 for the fund you have started.

Easel writes:

Though occupying a humble position in life I am nevertheless an ardent admirer of genius no matter in whatever shape it is displayed (always excepting a confidence man) and to that end enclose my mite to the Nast fund (ten cents) the receipt of which you will please acknowledge. I only regret that my impecunious state will not permit my contributing more.

A cynical individual who is dissatisfied with New York justice, says:

I was just on the point of enclosing ten cents for the relief of the gentleman who did such noble work for the Republican party in the "Journal of Civilization" but on reading your editorial headed "Hanging Played Out for the Rich" I changed my mind and concluded to devote my money to a nobler purpose. Please therefore divide the enclosed among the twelve intelligent and merciful good men and true who discharged their duty so nobly on the Stokes trial.

Some one who suffered by the panic wrote the following:

I cheerfully respond to your suggestion, and herewith hand in my mite to swell the Nast fund. Let the good work go on! This brilliant artist ought to be relieved for he is the man who let us have peace and U. S. G. Enclosed please find postage stamp. Were it not for recent financial difficulties which in spite of the efforts of our hero President have brought me to the verge of suspension, it would be larger.

Another correspondent writes a half column letter without contributing a copper. He believes strongly perhaps in supplying moral support to enable Nast to bear his alleged trials with fortitude. The Herald of October 31st acknowledges contributions to the amount of $6 25. It would be interesting to know just what the opinion of the Herald is. The sensation is fairly started and perhaps the object of that eccentric sheet has been accomplished.

The statement of the committee appointed by the banks of Providence R. I. to examine the affairs of A. & W. Sprague Manufacturing Company, have published their report. The assets and the liabilities of the firm and of the individual members thereof, are published in full in New York papers of November 2d. From that statement it appears that the total assets amount to $19,495 247 and the total liabilities to $11,475 443. The surplus assets of the A. & W. Sprague Mfg Co. and Hoyt Sprague & Co., are $11 719 804.

Stokes was taken to Sing Sing on the 1st inst. He will be assigned if he passes the physician says the Times, to a clerkship in the cigar manufactory.

Secretary Richardson's public debt statement for October shows that the increase of debt during the past month amounts to $3 039 578 45.

THE CATTLE ORDINANCE.—Of late the inquiry has been frequently made by persons residing in the city of the limits prescribed by ordinance for the running at large of cattle, horses, etc., and also the hours during which they are allowed to wander at will. So that all may know the exact limits as fixed and defined by the ordinance we publish the following (ordinance No. 4, section 2): Between the hours of 6 A M and 7 P M of each day horses, mules or cattle may be allowed to run at large outside of the following limits: Commencing at the [illegible] of Harrison street, thence along the south line of said street to the west line of Eighth street, thence along said west line of Eighth street to the south line of Main street, thence along the south line of Main street to the west line of Tenth, thence along said last named line to the intersection thereof with the west line of North Eleventh street, thence along said last named line to the south line of C street, thence west along C street to North Thirteenth street, thence along N. Thirteenth street to F street, thence down F street to North Eleventh street, thence along North Eleventh street to G, and along the north line of G street to the Wallamet river.

IN QUARANTINE.—Capt. Babbidge of the Dixie Thompson informs us that the schooner Alice H[illegible] is in quarantine below Astoria. She came over the bar on Tuesday. Soon after appearing in sight, the steamer started out to tow the schooner up. Before reaching the vessel Capt. Babbidge saw a small boat leaving her, in which was seated a physician. This party made gestures for the steamer not to approach nearer. Perceiving that the schooner displayed a red flag, Capt. Babbidge concluded to take the advice given and returned at once to Astoria. He did not learn the character of the contagion on board the schooner but the circumstances would indicate the presence of smallpox.

HAND CRUSHED.—Henry Kindreth, first mate of the Dixie Thompson had his left hand badly crushed yesterday morning at a wharf a few miles below the city. He was in the act of placing a line around a pile just as the steamer was touching the wharf, when the accident occurred. The pile around which Kindreth was placing the rope, stood a few inches from the main wharf. Before he succeeded in securing the line the guard of the boat struck the pile, driving it violently against the edge of the wharf and crushing his hand severely. He will be disabled for several weeks to come.

SHIP DAVID BROWN.—This vessel which is bound for Portland in ballast from San Francisco and under charter to carry hence a cargo of grain is now in the river. She arrived off the mouth of the Columbia on Monday, and succeeded in crossing the bar, but soon after a strong wind came up, which swept her out across the bar and some distance seaward. However the vessel came over the bar again on Tuesday and was beating along towards Astoria when the Dixie Thompson left for Portland having the Allon in tow.

ALLON ARRIVED.—This bark arrived yesterday in tow of the steamer Dixie Thompson from down the river. The Allon was taken in tow on Tuesday morning. Yesterday morning about 3 o'clock in passing Swan Island, the vessel ran aground. She was abandoned by the steamer for the time being until in the forenoon, when the Dixie again took hold of the bark and brought her up without further difficulty. The Allon lies at anchor out in the stream for the present.

SKATING RINK REOPENING.—The lovers of roller skating will be pleased to learn that this popular institution will be opened again. Mr Pivndale who has had considerable experience in the business will manage the Rink for the season. The announcement will be hailed with joy by all who have a desire for this popular style of amusement. Saturday evening is set for the opening under the new auspices. A brass band will be in attendance. See the card.

SET OF MACHINERY.—Mention was made some time ago of the fact that Messrs. Jacobs Bros had sent East for another set of machinery to enable them to meet the demands of the trade. The order for the additional machinery has been received nearly a month at the manufactory at North Andover Mass and is being turned out as rapidly as possible. By the first of next month the machinery is expected to arrive.

FOUR MORE VESSELS.—Just as the Dixie Thompson was leaving Astoria four sailing vessels were seen coming in. Two of the vessels were ships supposed to be the David Brown and Prof Airy; the other two were thought to be the Superior and Rival. Within a few days a large addition can be expected to the number of vessels which now line the docks.

STEAMER IDAHO.—This steamer reached here on Tuesday night, and is lying at the eastside dock receiving a cargo of wheat. The Idaho came from San Francisco last week. She had a load of railroad iron for the N P R R which was discharged at Kalama. The cargo will be finished and the steamer proceed down the river to-morrow.

WEATHER REPORT.—From the records of the U S Signal Station of Observation, Portland, Oregon, Nov 12, 1873:

Thermometer	41°	61°	46°
Wind direction	W	S	SE
velocity miles per hour	1	1	4
Weather	Clear	Clear	Clear
Rainfall			0 00 inches

A DECK LOAD OF LUMBER.—The barkentine Portland was towed down the river on Monday afternoon as far as St. Helens. She is now lying at that point receiving a deck load of lumber for San Francisco. The vessel will probably proceed down the river to Astoria to-morrow.

MAKING ARRANGEMENTS.—The committee appointed some time since by the Emmet Guard to make arrangements for the annual ball held a meeting on Tuesday evening. We learn that it is the intention to give a grand ball on Thanksgiving Eve.

DISCHARGING COAL.—Yesterday morning the steamer California was hauled to the eastside wharf. A considerable quantity of coal was discharged which will be forwarded at once to Salem, to be used in manufacturing gas for the Company at that place.

CASE TO BE CALLED.—This morning in the Circuit Court the case of State vs C. G. Glass and Charles Meal will be called for trial. All jurors who have not been excused for the term are required to be present at the opening of Court.

PILE DRIVING.—Pile driving began yesterday for the new wharf extension near the railroad ferry landing. The roof of a large portion of the warehouse [illegible] completed.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Gold is the current topic now.

Evening parties and sociables are becoming quite frequent.

The Grand Jury have been discharged for the term in the Circuit Court.

Examination of classes will take place to-day and to-morrow at the Portland Academy.

In the U S District Court the Grand Jury presented several bills of indictment yesterday.

Several men were engaged yesterday in digging about the ornamental trees in the Court House plaza.

Sporting men are interested now in the great horse race at San Francisco. Oscar Kilbourn will sell pools this evening at Oro Fino saloon.

The air last evening was redolent with the smoke proceeding from numerous piles of maple leaves which were raked into heaps and burned.

Don't attempt to carry on any kind of business without procuring a license when it is required by law. It don't pay, as several persons have lately discovered.

The sociable given by the ladies of the Taylor street M E Church last evening was well attended, and was highly enjoyed by all present.

The variety of Foreign and Domestic Fruits to be seen at W. ASCHAUER'S, 150 First street, is immense for this time of the year. Go and see it.

TWO BODIES INTERVIEWED

Reports were extensively circulated yesterday on the streets to the effect that two human bodies were found among the freight which came up on the Oriflamme. Naturally these rumors created much talk and elicited a hundred vague conjectures. Where these bodies came from, how they happened to be stowed away among the freight, and to whom were they consigned were prominent among the many questions propounded. Determined to investigate these flying reports and ascertain the truth or falsity of the same, we repaired to the wharf. Our efforts did not meet with much success for a time, as every one to whom we applied for information feigned ignorance of the matter. At length the following facts were derived from several parties who appeared to know more than they were willing to freely communicate.

Soon after the work of discharging freight from the steamer was begun early yesterday morning two long wooden boxes were hoisted to the dock. Nothing unusual in the appearance of the boxes claimed attention until the clerk came around, when he discovered that neither of the cases had any address. He was therefore unable to tell where the boxes were destined, or to whom consigned. Attention was called to this circumstance by the clerk. Several persons gathered about the boxes and the more they looked at them the more incredulous they grew. Suspicion soon succeeded doubt, which forthwith grew apace when the words on the boxes were read, "Handle with care." This feeling did not abate any when the nostrils of those standing around were greeted with a strong, disagreeable odor which apparently was emitted from the questionable looking packages. All had read sensational accounts in the papers concerning the shipment of dead bodies in suspicious packages, and perhaps the recollection of the terrible revolting discovery of the putrid remains of poor Alice Bowlsby arose freshly in the minds of all present. It being surmised on what appeared strong and reasonable grounds that these boxes contained defunct human bodies, the motion was made and carried that the packages be opened so as to settle all doubts about the character of the contents. Accordingly the lid of one of the boxes was broke open. More than was conjectured was realized, for no sooner did the curious gaze of those standing about penetrate the inner recesses of the suspicious box than the eyes of all rested on a ghastly corpse. Down went the box lid much quicker than it was raised, and further investigations by the committee were indefinitely postponed. Sufficient to say that the contents of the second box were allowed to rest undisturbed. The fact then began to dawn on the minds of the committee that these remains came from San Francisco, were for purposes of dissection and destined for the Medical College at Salem. Yesterday these bodies were forwarded to their destination, having entirely satisfied the curiosity of those who were anxious to probe the mystery. We suppose the public mind ought by this time resume its wonted tranquility after the circulation of the startling rumors, for we are quite certain we have no desire to "interview" such freight.

MILITARY NOTES.

Lieut Jos W Duncan is expected to arrive here in a few weeks from the East. He will be ordered at once to San Juan to relieve Lieut. Eberstein, who will report at Fort Klamath.

Capt Jas J Jackson, who has been stationed for some months at Fort Klamath, went East on a visit a short time since. An order was received yesterday by Assistant Adjutant H Clay Wood giving him a leave of absence for six months from his post of duty.

KEEP OUT THE COLD.—During the winter months everybody is anxious to avoid the severity of the weather, and various modes are resorted to in carrying out the best means of keeping warm. While BECK & WALDMAN are selling clothing from their immense stock at extremely low prices it would be well to call in and select a winter suit. They keep the best suit as low as any house and do not propose to be outdone by any other house in the city. They are to be found at the old stand, S W corner Washington and Front streets.

CLOTHE YOURSELF.—Now is the time to make a purchase of winter clothing. If you have not done so make it a point to consult J. KOHN & CO., who are able to show you the finest assortment of goods ever displayed in this city. They have the largest store and are thus enabled to lay in an immense stock. There is no denying the fact. You need not hesitate about prices as they have put the figures down to allow but a small margin to themselves. The place is opposite the National Bank.

I'm going home to-night with a[illegible] previously made arrangements with John O'Neil & Co to do up a fall suit in their own peculiar style, which is quite popular, as the elegant suits daily seen on the streets from this house will attest. Mr Schmer of the firm has been to San Francisco. That is sufficient. Be sure to call and select from the latest arrivals, which are new and novel. The place is 30 First street.

COMMON COUNCIL.

REGULAR MEETING, NOVEMBER 12, 1873.

Members present: Councilmen Besser, Burton, Cawood, Hoyt, Lyon, Moreland and Story. Chief Lappeus in attendance.

Absent—Councilmen Hill and Russell.

Mayor Failing in the chair.

Minutes read and approved.

PETITIONS, ETC.

A communication was read from His Honor Mayor Failing vetoing the ordinance providing for lighting the oil lamps. The veto was sustained.

A petition was read from W. F. Halsey and others asking for the improvement of North First street between F and G.

On motion the Auditor was instructed to give the usual notice of intention of improvement.

A petition was read from Ben Holladay Jr and others asking for the improvement of G street between North Fourth and North Front. The Clerk was ordered to publish the usual notice of an intention to improve the street as petitioned for.

CONCERNING THE CITY ATTORNEY.

A communication was read from E. C. Work in relation to alleged dereliction in office by City Attorney M. F. Mulkey. The communication stated in substance that under the charter a City Attorney is appointed by the City Council, whose duty is to appear in the Police Court to prosecute all suits in cases where the city is plaintiff. That the petitioner had frequently appeared in the Police Court to defend persons charged with violating city ordinances, and that the City Attorney had in many instances failed to appear at all. That by reason of the non-appearance of such Attorney in behalf of the city, as is authorized by the charter, a judgment rendered in Police Court is subject to review by some superior tribunal, thus entailing additional and unnecessary expense for the city. That judgments have been rendered in court against defendants when no City Attorney appeared to prosecute the case, and that in such cases the City Attorney had not given any advice in writing in those matters wherein the city is interested, nor did he sign the same. That by reason of such judgments rendered and the dereliction of Mr Mulky the city was liable for costs on the review of cases. That by reason of Mr. Mulkey's failure to be present, the city has now no legally authorized attorney to prosecute cases in the Police Court.

By permission of the Council Mr. Work was invited to come within the bar, who explained at some length the character and object of the petition.

In the same connection an affidavit was read from Captain J. R. Wiley. This affidavit set forth that the person making it was a duly appointed Captain of Police; that it was his duty as such officer to attend regularly the sessions of the Police Court; that to his personal knowledge, City Attorney Mulkey had been present to prosecute suits in behalf of the city only about three times during the last month.

SPECIAL COMMITTEE APPOINTED.

Councilman Besser moved that the communication and accompanying affidavit be referred to the Committee on Judiciary, with special instructions to report in relation to the matter at the next meeting.

Mr Story moved to amend Mr. Besser's motion by referring the communication to a special committee, consisting of one member from each ward.

The amendment prevailed, and the Mayor appointed as such Committee—First Ward, Story; Second Ward, Lyon; Third Ward, Besser.

This Committee was directed by the Council to report the results of their investigations of the dereliction charged at the next meeting.

COMMUNICATIONS.

A communication was read from L. Samuel in relation to publishing in his forthcoming Directory the necessary city ordinances and stipulating the prices of their insertion. Referred to the Committee on Accounts and Current Expenses.

A communication from the Assistant Superintendent of Streets, tendering his resignation to take effect on the 15th inst., was read and filed.

Leave of absence was granted Councilman Moreland for the remainder of the evening.

CLAIMS.

The following claims against the city were ordered paid: David Newell, $2[illegible]; Thomas Matthews, $2; A. A. Long, $100; J. R. Lake, $7 00; Holman & Co., $1 50; John Donnerberg, $29 47; A. G. Walling, $3[illegible]; OREGONIAN, $18 00; George L. Story, $2 50; Willamet Iron Works, $87 58; W. H. Butts, $449 84.

ORDINANCES.

An ordinance from the Committee on Fire and Water making an appropriation of $5,000 arising from the sale of the Fire Department Bonds to be applied in the construction of a house for Protection No 4 was read and laid over.

An ordinance from the Committee on Streets and Public Property, declaring the contract for the improvement of Harrison street forfeited, and providing for a new contract, was read three times and passed.

Councilman Besser offered an ordinance repealing the ordinance relative to street obstructions, and also providing for the erection of awnings, which was read three times and passed.

An ordinance from the Committee on Streets and Public Property providing for the time and manner of improving Jefferson street, from Seventh to Twelfth, was read three times and passed.

Councilman Besser offered an ordinance relative to the construction of sidewalks on Front and First streets within certain limits, which was read and laid over.

An ordinance making an appropriation of $1,000 out of the General Fund, for the care of patients and the prevention of infectious diseases, was read third time and passed.

An ordinance authorizing a contract for clearing dust and rubbish from the streets in front of public property was read third time and passed.

RESOLUTIONS.

The following resolution was presented by the Committee on Streets and Public Property and adopted:

Resolved, That the Superintendent of Streets be and is hereby directed to report on estimates of the grading necessary to bring that part of the public Parks and adjacent streets to the grade lying between the north side of Mill street, the north line of the Caruthers Land Claim and the centers of East and West Park streets.

From the same Committee:

Resolved, That the Auditor and Clerk be and is hereby instructed to give notice of the intention of the Council to improve Madison street from Sixth to Seventh.

On motion the Council adjourned.

Medical Rubbish

Columns would be required to enumerate the [illegible] that have [illegible] since Hostetter's Stomach Bitters became the standard tonic of the Western Hemisphere. [illegible] the most extravagant fabrications [illegible] have in turn been employed to bolster up the worthless preparations that have from time to time been introduced in the hope of dividing the field with that famous vegetable remedy. Signal failure has been the lot of all. The reputation of the Bitters as a preventive of epidemics is as much [illegible] an invigorant, a general restorative and a specific for indigestion, biliousness, [illegible] rheumatism, nervous debility [illegible] al weakness, paroxysmal fevers and [illegible] complaints to which the more sensitive sex [illegible] is established upon the solid basis of [illegible] than twenty years experience, and can no more be shaken by the clap-trap nostrums of unscientific pretenders than the everlasting hills by the winds that rustle through their [illegible]

VANCOUVER ITEMS

Farmers are busy sowing their wheat. The acreage for the coming season will be far in excess of that of the past.

The weather is unusually fine in Vancouver. "The oldest inhabitant" says it is unusually fine for this season of the year. But this noted individual always has unusual weather for the season.

The efforts of Messrs. Joner & Gray to please their patrons by securing the Vancouver in place of the Cyrus for this trade is appreciated by the citizens of this town. The return of the Vancouver after a long absence was hailed with joy by the people.

The public school affairs in this town for a short time past have been in rather a perturbed state, and have scarcely quieted down yet. After the departing of Mr Scott, Mr Taylor of East Portland was engaged and was to commence his school on Monday. On Friday evening after the employment of Mr Taylor there was a change made in the Board of Directors by the election of John Jaggy in the place of B. M. Washburn, whose term of office had expired. On Monday morning Mr Taylor opened the school according to agreement, but soon after the Directors inquired for his certificate of examination. This, probably owing to the temporary absence of the Superintendent, he had failed to procure. The Directors then notified him that as the law required every teacher to procure a certificate of examination before entering on the duties of a teacher they should consider their contract null and void. A meeting of the Directors was held that evening, and Prof. L. H. Curtis of Vancouver Seminary elected to fill the vacancy. On Tuesday morning Prof. Curtis closed the Seminary and opened the public school. Prof. C. has a high reputation as a teacher and we trust that he will give satisfaction in his present position.

That "eighth juror" in the Stokes case who was sentenced the other day by Judge Davis in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, to thirty days imprisonment and a fine of $250, deserved punishment far more rigorous than he received, if New York papers tell the truth. The Times says that Center—the juror—visited Bryant's Minstrels and the saloons of Harry Hill, Reddy the Blacksmith and Mike Coburn. In the latter places he drank freely and treated with lavish generosity. At the Fifth Avenue Hotel he said, in conversation with a gentleman, that Stokes would never be hung, that he "wouldn't hurt the poor boy." In one of the saloons this remarkable juror repeated the assertion. It is also stated by the person from whom the above facts were obtained, says the Times, that Center before being sworn in as a juror said that if he was impanneled on the jury he would not hang the prisoner. The deputy who accompanied this model juror on his rambles emphatically denied that the prisoner had any communication of the character with any one. But the Court was satisfied to the contrary, and Judge Davis punished the tonguey Center accordingly.

MARY AND I.

'Twas evening in May and the soft zephyr sighed
Through branches low bending above,
My Mary and I as we wandered along
And I whispered of beauty and love.
We'll make us a nest like the birdlings, I said
And never shall part any more.
Oh yes, she replied, and I can furnish it nice
AT HURGREN & SHINDLER'S STORE.

'Fair creature, there's many a wealthier man
Would gladly have you for a bride
But none, none can love you more fondly than I—
My treasure, my beauty and pride.
Oh had I a mansion with carpets of gold
And silver laid over the floor.
But smiling she said, You can purchase the best,
AT HURGREN & SHINDLER'S STORE.

I'll spread you a couch upon which to recline
When evening shall call us to rest
Of the softest down—but she said with a sigh
I like a hair mattress the best.
Then it shall be, Love, and tables inlaid
And seats from some far distant shore.
Oh yes, she exclaimed, they have elegant sets
AT HURGREN & SHINDLER'S STORE.

But Mary, alas I must sadly confess
My means are but slender as yet
To furnish a house in the style you demand
Would hopelessly plunge me in debt—
To ask you to share my poor lodgings and board
Is something that I should deplore.
She said with a smile, You can buy very cheap
AT HURGREN & SHINDLER'S STORE.

To-morrow then, love, let us journey along
To the corner of Alder and Front street—
'Tis numbers 98 and 100 (river side)
Where lovers so happily meet.
How many fond souls might be severed for years
From those they so fondly adore
Were it not for the beautiful furniture they have
AT HURGREN & SHINDLER'S STORE.

They have marble top bureaus and elegant sets
Of Bedroom furniture new
With center tables and what nots and mirrors great
And an endless variety of chairs not a few.
They do a cash business, and with money in hand
To purchase every style of furniture lower
Are able to supply all the public demand
AT HURGREN & SHINDLER'S STORE.

We went Mary and I and can I ever forget
The pleasure that beamed in her face
As she gazed at the marvels of beauty displayed
In HURGREN & SHINDLER'S place?
We furnished our home in an elegant style
Been married a twelve month or more
And Mary is singing this song to her babe,
OF HURGREN & SHINDLER'S STORE.

PLOT OF A DARK TRAGEDY

A REMARKABLE CHAPTER IN CRIME—TRIAL AT WESTCHESTER, PA., OF UDDERZOOT—A ROMANCE IN REAL LIFE.

West Chester, Pa., Oct. [illegible].—This morning at the opening of Court, District Attorney Waddell called the case of W. E. Udderzoot, charged with murder. The court room was filled to overflowing, and much interest was manifested in the proceedings. The indictment contains two counts, one for killing W. [illegible] Goss, and the other for killing a person unknown. It is seriously contended by the defense now that the indictment charges killing of persons, and the commonwealth will [illegible] elect upon which count the prisoner will be tried.

This trial promises to unfold one of the most remarkable criminal cases of the [illegible], involving more of mystery, startling incident, greed for gain and heartless butchery than was ever conjured up in the brain of the most sensational writer of modern fiction. The plot of this dark tragedy, its scenes and incidents, as developed before the Court, the grand jury, and unearthed by shrewd detectives, may be summed up as follows:

ACT FIRST.

A wooden tenement stands in the suburbs of Baltimore, occupied by one W. [illegible] Goss, who is ostensibly engaged in experimenting on a substitute for rubber, for which he proposes securing a patent. He has a partner, one W. E. Udderzoot, who has put $200 (obtained from his mother) into the common purse. The object being not to perfect a patent, but to defraud five insurance companies out of $25,000. Goss is a married man and these policies are on his life, one for $10,000 being in the Travelers' (Accident) company. Udderzoot procures a corpse from some cemetery or dissecting room, and places it in the building. Then all being in readiness for the final coup, Udderzoot and Goss start one morning for this building, purchasing on the way a pint of whisky and a gallon of coal oil. They also borrow one ax of a neighbor, who accompanies them. With the ax a quantity of kindling is cut, and at dark a futile effort is made to light a coal oil lamp. Udderzoot then goes away with the neighbor, ostensibly for the purpose of procuring another lamp. They had not been gone long when the building was in flames. Goss had piled the kindling wood on the body, drenched it with coal oil, and set fire to the pile. He then ran down the lane, got into a buggy which his brother, A. C. Goss, had procured and held in waiting, and drove to the Philadelphia depot. He then took a train northward to become a voluntary wanderer, a homeless outcast.

Udderzoot and his companion hastened back to the blazing building. The neighbors gather around and stand in the glare of the crackling flames. Not until the fire fiend had done its worst did Udderzoot mention to those around him that Goss was in the building. This failed to create a sensation, however, as several had seen a man run down the lane when the fire broke out; there had been no explosion.

ACT SECOND.

The United States Circuit Court room, Baltimore. The widow of Goss had claimed of the insurance companies the amount of the policies on her husband's life, and payment had been refused, on the ground that Goss was not dead. The widow maintained that her husband had perished in the flames, and brought suit. The remains found in the ruins were disinterred and examined by medical experts. The defense urged that the teeth were unlike the fine set Goss was known to have possessed, that the hair exhibited was not the color of his, and so a war was waged over these fragments of humanity. The average juror has no bowels of compassion for corporations or cormorants. An appeal followed of course. The insurance companies were threatened with the verdict, and no wonder. Indeed it is asserted that prior to this trial overtures had been made to the insurance agents on the part of Goss, who was ready to give himself up for a sum of money, and immunity from criminal prosecution for all concerned in the plot.

ACT THIRD.

In this we see the wanderer, driven from place to place, embarrassed pecuniarily, given over to drink, now in Canada, then in Tennessee, then in Pennsylvania, and for a time in New Jersey. All this time he was in communication with his fellow conspirators, receives money and letters from them, and on one occasion is visited by his brother and Udderzoot. He has assumed an alias—is A. C. Wilson, a single man, and in this character is attentive to and endeavors to persuade into an elopement a girl in the humble walks of life. Finally the sinews of war become exhausted; it was not foreseen that the insurance companies would hold on to their greenbacks so tenaciously, and to one of the conspirators at least a murder seems to afford the only way to escape detection and punishment for a lesser crime.

ACT FOURTH

Is laid in Pennsylvania. Udderzoot and Goss arrive in Chester county together. Goss is left at a tavern at Jennersville while Udderzoot visits his brother-in-law hard by, a ne'er do weel named Rhodes. He endeavors to secure Rhodes as an accomplice in the premeditated crime by arousing his cupidity. He tells him the stranger has one thousand dollars in his possession, and more may be had. Rhodes refuses and warns Udderzoot, if we may credit the statements of the former, and Udderzoot then resolves to do the deed himself. He procures a horse and buggy and invites Goss to ride with him. The two start out together but one returns. The remains of the other are found ten days later where the murderer's hands had laid them. The deed was done under cover of the darkness. The buggy was halted by the roadside at the edge of the wood. The murderer's left arm was placed around the drugged and half-conscious victim, while the right hand inflicted three deadly stabs with a dirk. Then the body was forced back against the buggy-top, breaking the bow, and the throat cut. In taking the corpse from the vehicle the step was broken and the dash board bent. The [illegible] remains were taken into the woods. The bloody blankets were thrown out of the buggy, the oil-cloth removed from the floor of the vehicle, and it was washed in a stream near by, and returned to its owner in Penningtonville just before midnight. With all these precautions a ring, afterward identified as one worn by Goss, and a bone stud which belonged to Udderzoot were found in the buggy, and later examinations detected blood stains. The vehicle had also been injured in the struggle, which did not escape notice at the time, but Udderzoot's explanations were deemed satisfactory, and he paid for the damage done and for the loss of the blankets. The buggy having been thus disposed of, the murderer returned to complete his fearful night's work. He stripped the body of all its clothing save the shoes and stockings, cut off the arms at the chest, tried to cut off the legs at the knee, but could not discover the joints, and so cut them off at the thigh. The body he buried in one place, the dismembered limbs in another, and the clothing and the blankets taken from the buggy in a third place, all so marked that he could readily find them if he desired. Coolness and calculation appear to have marked all the murderer's movements.

The buzzards disclosed the burial place of the murdered man, an inquest was held and a verdict found against W. E. Udderzoot. He was arrested in Baltimore and taken to West chester jail to await his trial. Rhodes, his brother in law, was afterwards arrested as an accomplice in the murder and A. C. Goss was also arrested on a charge of conspiracy and perjury, made by the insurance companies.

ACT FIFTH.

The court room at Westchester, Pa., where W. E. Udderzoot is tried for his life.

These are mere outlines, meager notes of a chapter of incidents in the criminal annals of this country on which those insatiate of horrors will soon be fed to the full. Clearly the brothers Goss, the widow and W. E. Udderzoot, were in the plot to defraud the insurance companies. How many were concerned in it must be left to conjecture for the present. Think of these conspirators, a wife and brother among them, swearing to the identity of remains which they knew to be those of unknown persons—critically examining and testifying upon teeth and hair and listened to [illegible]. When the remains were discovered in Pennsylvania, they manifested no feeling or interest regarding them. Were the wife and brother in the confidence of the murderer? One is led to inquire what part in the plot had Rhodes? May he not have been the murderer, the principal, and not the accomplice? All this and more has to be unraveled and revealed in the court room. The evidence against Udderzoot is purely circumstantial, but it is terribly direct. There is even now a belief in some quarters that Goss really perished in the flame, as alleged. Who then was the man murdered and cut to pieces in Pennsylvania?

NEW REMEDIES! NEW REMEDIES!

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. [illegible] lished in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases of years standing, and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe, and has resumed practice at his Dispensary, 623 Kearny street, corner of Commercial, San Francisco, where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him.

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible D[illegible]

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible, life-destroying maladies; see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to DR. GIBBON, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate case, without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make inquiry or you may fall into the hands of [illegible] charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

Married Men,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them, nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DR. GIBBON is responsible, and will give to [illegible] patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure or make no charge.

Cured at Home.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions. By inclosing Ten Dollars coin in registered letter through the Post-office or through Wells, Fargo & Co., a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union. All communications strictly confidential.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who, with bogus sworn-to certificates, dupe the unwary. Some of the self-styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing and may save you many regrets, for as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patients' letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco. Postoffice box 1,957.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 1,957 ON THE LETTER. Consultations FREE.

Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the DAILY OREGONIAN. [illegible]
